Nursing Professional Development (NPD)

PRACTICE MODEL

Program

Discussion questions

“Using a systems model, the NPD Scope of Practice defines the who, what, where, when, why, and how that drive nursing professional development practice.”

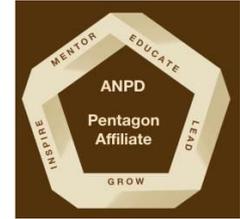

NPD Scope and Standards, pg. 9

Let’s look at each detail relating to the inputs;
the Where, When and Who.

The following questions are meant to stimulate thought and discussion as well as lead to additional questions!

Program

Discussion questions

The environment encompasses the whole model so necessitates discussion at each stage.

What are the environments (the “where”) in which we practice?

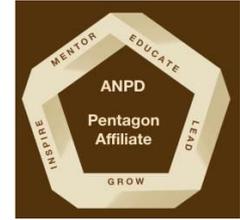

- Practice Environments
- Learning Environments

Why is an interprofessional environment mentioned?

How do these environments affect our practice?

Program

Discussion questions

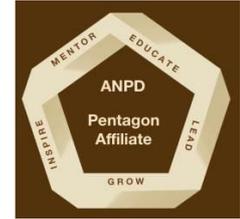

When does NPD practice occur?

Is it only when teaching a class? Leading a sim?

What are some activities you do, either consciously or unconsciously, purposefully or not, that serve as an input to the model leading to protection of the public?

Program

Discussion questions

Define the “Who” in the model.

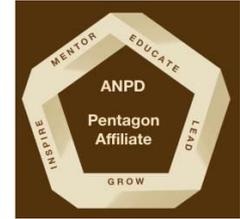

Who are you and why is it important?

- NPD practitioner
- NPD generalist
- NPD specialist

Who is the learner and why are they important?

Program

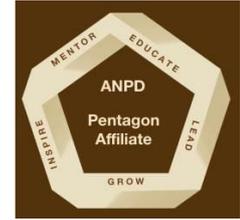

Discussion questions

What and how can we, as NPD practitioners, enhance the inputs to the practice model?

- The WHERE - environments?
- Determining the WHEN - professional practice gaps and other opportunities?
- The WHO – NPD and learners?
